The Lucknow chapter of Institute of Cost Accountants of India (ICAI) organised a convention for CMA students on "Small opportunities are the beginning of great enterprises" at Indira Gandhi Pratishthan on Sunday.

Narendra Singh Yadav, Minister of State for Home Guards and Provincial Armed Constabulary, was the chief guest on the occasion who inaugurated the convention.

Yadav said that there was no doubt that CMA career is one of the best professions because CMAs were competent to space the Indian economy and control inflation.

"CMAs can also control on the pricing so that public service may be provided on reasonable rates to public. They have amplified their role from the level of accountant, since nowadays they are the genuine professionals in the field of management and accountancy to lead the nation a step ahead by putting their skills in controlling the cost and inflation and their contribution towards enhancing the overall economy of the nation and the world as well," he noted.

ICAI's national president Rakesh Singh, CCM Sanjay Gupta, RCM Saurabh Srivastava, LCCA chairman Sunil Singh, secretary Vikas Srivastava, vice-chairperson Seema Singh, joint secretary Pawan Tiwari, treasurer Anjana Chaddha and other members were also present on the occasion. Abhishek Sahai briefed about the practical aspects of service tax (basics and recent changes) to the CMA members and students.

ASSOCHAM secretary general SB Agarwal explained about the FDI in India while Sanjay Gupta briefed about cost accounting records rules to the member and students.
