

INTERNATIONAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

CMA AMIT DEY,
M.COM, LLB.

ICC was founded in 1919 in the aftermath of the First World War, at a time when no world system of rules governed trade, investment, finance or commercial relations.

ICC founders were a group of industrialists, financiers, and traders determined to replace fear and suspicion with a new spirit of hope and cooperation.

Acting on their conviction that the private sector is best qualified to set global standards for business, they called themselves “Merchants of Peace”.

For business. For you.

The mission of ICC is to make business work for everyone, every day, everywhere by promoting open international trade and investment systems that foster peace, prosperity and opportunity for all.

Neutrality and Independence is the key determinant of ICC's ability to build trusted relationships with policymakers and international organisations – and is the hallmark of the products and services we provide to companies large and small to enable cross border commerce.

We support multilateralism as the best way to address global challenges and are uniquely positioned as a globally connected and representative business organisation to speak with authority on behalf of enterprises from all sectors in every region of the world. Combined, our national committee and World Chambers Federation networks reach over 170 countries, encompassing more than 45 million businesses from SMEs to the large multi-national companies.
