

Seminar on IS THE CORPORATE SECTOR OVER-REGULATED?

Saturday, 7th May 2016 at 9:00 a.m. at PHD House, New Delhi

The Corporate Sector in the recent year has witnessed its best run and 2016 looks even more promising.

The Companies Act, 2013 set the tone for a more modern legislation which enables growth and greater regulation of the corporate sector in India. The Act facilitates more business-friendly corporate regulations, improve corporate governance norms, enhance accountability on the part of Corporates and auditors, raise levels of transparency and protect interests of investors. The Act has ushered in a new era of corporate democracy making a titanic shift from "Government control" to "self-governance".

With the introduction of the new Companies Act, 2013, regulatory checks, accountability and governance standards in India have received a serious boost in recent years. However, the need to comply with the Companies Act has been challenging for several companies and with the introduction of the revision in governance requirements by SEBI, compliance is likely to become more onerous for companies with a consequent effect on the cost of compliance.

The "MAKE IN INDIA" programme is aimed at showcasing India as a global investment destination. But there are still some bottlenecks in economy which Government needs to address towards making India a global manufacturing hub. There is a need to identify some of the key challenges in the path of development and requires possible recommendations and solutions to deal with the same.

Keeping this in context, we are happy to inform that PHD Chamber of Commerce and Industry is organizing a full day Seminar on "IS THE CORPORATE SECTOR OVER-REGULATED?" on Saturday, 7th May 2016 at 9:00 a.m. at PHD House, 4/2 Siri Institutional Area, August Kranti Marg, New Delhi.
